DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the tamper-evident indicator disposed "between" the first and second wall (claim 10 and "said ink layer disposed between said first wall and said adhesive layer" (claim 1) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification fails to provide an adequate written description of void spaces in the ink layer after the layer of adhesive has been applied over the ink layer. Does the layer adhesive fill in the void spaces? If not, the specification fails to provide an adequate written description of how the layer of adhesive is to be applied to the ink layer so as not to fill in the void spaces.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1, 8 and 15, the "overlying relationship" between the "layer of ink" and the "release material" has not been defined to warrant the language "regions not overlying said release material".

6. Claims that have not been specifically mentioned are rejected since they depend from claims rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first and second paragraphs.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 15-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Faykish et al.

Faykish et al. discloses tamper-indicating laminate comprising a flexible strip ("protective layer" 10), a layer of release material disposed in a predetermined pattern ("low adhesion coating" 12), layer of ink in overlying relationship with the release material ("emblem layer" 14) and a layer of adhesive ("pressure sensitive adhesive" 16). As seen Fig. 2 of Faykish et al., the emblem layer has greater adhesion to the adhesive in regions of the emblem layer that overlie the low adhesion coating. Furthermore, the emblem layer has lower adhesion to the adhesive in regions of the emblem layer that do not overlie the low adhesion coating.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3727

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Faykish et al. and Smith (cited by applicant).

Faykish et al. discloses the claimed device except for the tamper-indicating laminate sealing a bag. Smith discloses that it is known in the art to provide an analogous tamper-indicating laminate on a bag. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the tamper-indicating laminate of Faykish et al. on a bag as in Smith for the purpose of sealing the bag and providing visual indication of surreptitious opening.

Regarding claims 5 and 12, Faykish et al. and Smith discloses the claimed invention except for the bag having a preprinted graphic of the first visual appearance of the tamper-indicator. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a preprinted graphic of the first visual appearance of the tamper-indicator the bag since it was known in the art that a preprinted graphic of the first visual appearance of the tamper-indicator provides the user with a visual cue of how the tamper-indicator should appear before separation.
